Koně a kultura na Moravě aneb Horsin' around in Moravia

Five days horseback riding at Hipocentrum Koryčany and two days exploring Brno.

If you are interested in horses and want to ride – whether you are an experienced equestrian or have never yet put your foot in a stirrup – this is the school-in-the-countryside for you. We shall spend the first five days at the Hipocentrum Koryčany learning about horses, riding (eight hours in the saddle; one lesson of vaulting), relaxing, chatting, and doing other fun activities like archery (probably not from horseback, though).

After we leave the riding center, we will spend two days in Brno – exploring the Moravian metropolis and visiting Villa Tugendhat (which Soviet officers used as a stable for their horses at the end of WW2).

If you like animals and architecture, don't mind getting your jeans dirty, and are nice to your classmates, I would love to have you on this trip.
